- Congratulations to two West Hartford residents who have been elected to the Connecticut Council for Philanthropy leadership. Tiffany Donelson, vice president of programs, Connecticut Health Foundation, has been named CCP Board Vice Chair, and Jill Hutensky, senior vice president, Hartford market manager, Bank of America, is a new member of the CCP Board of Directors. Donelson has been on the board since 2018 and secretary in 2019. She previously held several leadership roles at Aetna, Inc., including as the deputy chief of staff for Aetna's National Businesses Office and as a director in corporate strategy. Before joining Aetna, Donelson was a consultant at Ingenix Consulting and PricewaterhouseCoopers. In addition to the Connecticut Council for Philanthropy, she also serves on the boards of the United Way of Connecticut and Hartford Performs. Donelson received her M.P.H. in health policy and management at Emory University's Rollins School of Public Health, and her B.S. in biology at Georgetown University. At Bank of America, Hutensky works with the local market leadership team to connect businesses, families and individuals to the resources and expertise across the Bank. She oversees brand reputation, communications, volunteerism and community impact, and stewards Bank of America Charitable Foundation in Hartford, which contributed more than $2 million in 2019. She came to this position after nearly 20 years in corporate communications, marketing, and corporate social responsibility. Huntensky has participated as a board member with several nonprofit organizations, including the Jewish Community Foundation and the Center for Children's Advocacy, and currently serves on the board of the Bushnell Center for the Performing Arts.
