About CCP:
Harnessing The Power of Good for Connecticut

The Connecticut Council for Philanthropy is an association of grantmakers committed to promoting and supporting effective philanthropy for the public good.

The Connecticut Council for Philanthropy serves 105 grantmakers representing more than $8.2 billion in assets and more than $1.2 billion in annual grantmaking.

CCP Commitments

- Serve as a leader and a catalyst for philanthropic action in response to community issues
- Facilitate the regular exchange of ideas, experiences, information, and expertise among Connecticut grantmakers
- Share current and expert knowledge and education about philanthropy for Connecticut’s grantmakers; national, state, and local leaders; and the general public
- Increase public understanding of the value and impact of philanthropy

CCP values

The Connecticut Council for Philanthropy believes in encouraging philanthropy that is guided by the values of transparency, accessibility, ethical conduct, and responsiveness to diverse populations. Further, we value a diverse workforce and diverse leadership because we believe that this enriches and elevates our work and community.
